Farmland is an asset class you can actually see and touch a world apart from traditional investment vehicles. Crowdfunding for farmland allows investors to take a hands-off position on farmland, allowing them to enjoy returns without having to become directly involved in operations. Nonetheless, the model has its limitations.

IMO, kraken is the best exchange. It's the mix of many factors: They don't have as many altcoins as Binance but still many, they offer staking for some coins (although not many and not the best rates), they are a registered company in a country with a solid legal system and with real offices and known people (unfortunately that means you need to do their terrible KYC process), you can buy .

Coinbase is a great start for beginners. It is a reputable exchange and it where you can start buying the big coin (BTC, ETH, etc.). They have an app that's great quality, and they also have their own wallet. It's a great one stop shop until you're ready to get into alts and open up alt wallets. 5.

For the first time investors are able to make direct investments in income producing farmland. Crowdfunding allows investors to see the details of the farm they're investing in. View expected returns and manage your exposure while helping individual farmers feed the world. PROS & CONS While REITs offer liquidity that's where their benefits stop.

AcreTrader is one of the most well-established farmland crowdfunding platforms out there. Their low fees/minimums, high level of transparency and competitive returns set them apart from many of the other platforms. They are listing new deals every single week with minimums around $10,000.
