No, KYC is not strictly for cryptocurrency. While it has been applied to some cryptocurrency exchanges, KYC began in 1989 as an effort to prevent fraud, tax evasion, terrorism financing, money laundering, and other financial crimes in traditional financial and non-financial infrastructures. KYC is still required by those infrastructures.

I would not trade here. The reason a lot of us U.S. traders left despite loving the site is because the &quot;PSA they put out to cover their asses&quot; gives them the ability to close any account they realize is connecting from the U.S. and force you to send proof you aren&#39;t from the U.S.

A good software engineer would code it in a way you don&#39;t have to worry about leaving enough coin to pay for the fee. Basically you just enter $3 you have in coins then the app calculates on its own to transfer only let say $2.97 and keep $0.03 as their pay. It is a junk software. A good merchant would make it easy for their customers.
