Though DAG-based cryptocurrencies have been around for a few years, they have a long way to go before seeing widespread use. As such, it's difficult to predict what incentives users might have to exploit the system in the future. Closing thoughts. Directed Acyclic Graphs are certainly an interesting technology for building cryptocurrency networks.

Coinbase lied to me when saying they got request from me but they could not to prove it so far. For your information: if someone is stealing your money, he will never send any request because to get approval he must verify his location, 2FA phone, send a link for a LinkedIn account, send a Bank Statement and it takes about 2-4 days. I asked Coinbase send me all verifications for that request, but they could not provide me with any.
