Automated market makers (AMMs) are a mechanism used by most decentralized exchanges to facilitate permissionless trading. AMMs make use of liquidity pools containing 2 or more assets, and prices are derived based on the proportion of each asset in that pool as well as the mathematical function used. Orders through an AMM are executed automatically via a smart contract that will calculate the trade prices algorithmically, including any slippage from the trade execution.

Binance.US charges a flat 0.1% spot trading fee, which is lower than many other U.S. exchanges, including eToro (about 0.75% for Bitcoin trades) and Coinbase (which charges 0.5% for trading fees).

Automated market makers (AMMs) are part of the decentralized finance (DeFi) ecosystem. They allow digital assets to be traded in a permissionless and automatic way by using liquidity pools rather than a traditional market of buyers and sellers. AMM users supply liquidity pools with crypto tokens, whose prices are determined by a constant mathematical formula.

Binance offers a staking service called Locked Staking. Locked staking requires you to lock the coins you wish to stake for a certain period to earn rewards. During the staking period, your cryptocurrencies will be locked and you would not have any access to these coins until the staking period is over.

Automated market makers (AMM) are protocols that provide liquidity to specific markets through automated algorithmic trading. In the context of decentralized cryptocurrency exchanges, automated market makers represent smart contracts that create so-called liquidity pools of tokens, which are automatically traded by an algorithm rather than an order book.

Since its launch, ergo (ERG) token price achieved its ATH on 16 Dec. 2017 at $22.37, followed by a three-year gap under $5, to currently settling at $10. Given that the ERG token has a relatively small market cap, at $327.64 million, it is not surprising to see wild price fluctuations.
