With candlesticks, you can get clues and insights from the price action as well as the general mood of the market for that asset. As time progresses, multiple candlesticks create larger patterns that crypto traders derive signals from to make vital trading decisions. At first, candlesticks may be a little difficult to understand.

When you research crypto assets, you may run into a special type of price graph called a candlestick chart. So its good to take a little time to learn how these work. Similar to more familiar line and bar graphs, candlesticks show time across the horizontal axis, and price data on the vertical axis.

They also have a famous crypto influencer as a part of their team, Mr. Francesco Facchinetti, that has more than 1 million followers among all the social networks and shills the coin every day. CATGE has reached 5 million market cap in 4 days growing 200% a day, has a heavy marketing budget and top influencers already shilling it.

Appearance: This pattern is made up of two candlesticks. The first one is bullish (green) while the second is red and engulfs the other. In other words, the second candle's body is bigger than the first one. With gaps between closing and opening prices rarely seen in the crypto, this pattern occurs at the top of an uptrend.
