Moving averages are among the most popular Polymath price prediction tools. As the name suggests, a moving average provides the average closing price for POLY over a selected time period. For example, a 12-day simple moving average for POLY is a sum of POLYs closing prices over the last 12 days which is then divided by 12.

When you research crypto assets, you may run into a special type of price graph called a candlestick chart. So its good to take a little time to learn how these work. Similar to more familiar line and bar graphs, candlesticks show time across the horizontal axis, and price data on the vertical axis.
